The Future of the Newsletter Act Now Before It is Too Late!

A bit dramatic, isn't it? Well, yes and no.

Yes it is dramatic because it is only the Anarchist Network Newsletter, not really very important in the scheme of things. So let us keep a perspective on things!

And no it is not dramatic because the ways things are going I cannot see much point in producing the ANN on a regular basis, or even at all.

For the past 6 months, the only regular contributions have been the cartoons from WAL. That is not to deny the other contributions, but for the last 6 months they have been thin on the ground. Even with controversial cartoons or articles, no one has responded!

The only other regular contributions have been news from Union Street - notice of meetings, minutes, submissions, etc.

NEXT EDITIONS DEADLINE FOR CONTRIBUTIONS 17th October.

The Future of the Newsletter
Act Now Before It is Too Late!

This has left me (and WAL incidentally) wondering about the value of continuing the work involved. Are you reading what there is? Does it matter? Is there nothing you want to say to other people?

Anyway, this leaves me wanting to review what happens with the ANN. WAL has also indicated that unless some response is forthcoming in te next couple of months he is not likely to continue producing cartoons for us. I think that would be a shame, what do you think?

Using the end of the year as a deadline, I want to put the same question to you, is there any point in continuing?

My feeling is that, if there is no real change, that I will stop producing the ANN at the end of the year. At that point, if anyone else wants to take it on they are welcome to all the material I have.

The only thing that leaves is the role of distributing information for Union Street. My feeling is that if the ANN is no longer produced on a regular basis, it could still be done by myself or someone else irregularly to meet the needs of Union Street. Or we could just have a mail-out when needed, without it being in the form of a newsletter. The current mailing list could be used or made available for that.

So there you have it. The newsletter is in your hands. Do you want one or not?
